

32nd Annual
West Virginia Rural Health Conference
November 13-15, 2024

The West Virginia Rural Health Association is excited to host the 32nd Annual West Virginia Rural Health Conference from November 13-15, 2024. This year's event will be hosted at The Resort at Glade Springs in Daniels, WV. We are excited to offer a hybrid format with the conference plenary sessions being broadcast live. This conference is the largest gathering of people who are interested in improving rural health in WV with the overall goal of helping our rural communities adapt, grow, and succeed.

This year's conference theme, Innovative Change Starts in the Mountains, celebrates the culture of health being built right here in the hills of WV. Our state has made great progress in addressing health disparities and helping our communities thrive. WVRHA invites you to take part in this year's celebration.

On the following pages, you will find an outline of the opportunities for your organization to sponsor this event.

If you have any questions about sponsorship, please feel free to reach out to info@wvrha.org.

Sincerely,

Rich Sutphin
Executive Director
