A Letter from our WVRHA Executive Director

It brings all of us at WVRHA great pleasure to welcome you to the 32nd Annual West Virginia Rural Health Conference and to the charming Resort at Glade Springs in Daniels, WV! Our conference theme this year is “Innovative Change Starts in the Mountains” and we are excited that you have joined us to learn best practices for rural health from our colleagues within the state and around the nation. We seek to showcase the talents of people who work tirelessly to make a positive difference in our state. We hope that you will engage in dialogue to inspire and excite you for the year ahead.

Our goal is that you emerge from this conference re-energized for the work of improving rural health access, bridging the divide caused by inequity, and providing excellent care in our rural and underserved communities.

This conference represents a lot of hard work by many folks who are deeply committed to rural health. Without our conference planning committee, none of this would be possible. The staff and Board of Directors of the WV Rural Health Association are grateful to this dedicated group of individuals who spend their time throughout the year working to make this conference a success. This conference would also not be possible without the support of our sponsors and exhibitors. We hope you will take time to visit our friends in Woodland 1, the Foyer, and Rotunda areas.

The importance of innovative change cannot be overstated; it not only enhances patient care but also improves quality of life for people we call friends, family, and neighbors. We must find a way to make that change, and that starts here, in the mountains that we call home! We hope you hear the message of the strength and tenacity of our rural communities throughout this conference.

If this is your first time attending the WV Rural Health Conference, we are so pleased that you are joining us, and we hope this year will be the start of an annual tradition for you. If you have attended our conference in the past, we are thrilled to welcome you back. Strong rural health makes a stronger West Virginia, and together is how we do this!

In health,

Rural Health Heroes in WV

2024 EDITION

Last year in 2023, we introduced a brand-new category for the West Virginia Rural Health Awards. This particular award was more than an honor to produce, and we felt it absolutely necessary to name it after its very first winner.

It serves to honor the legacy of the recipient as a stalwart champion for their tremendous work in educating students to prepare them for rural practice. Afterall, they are the future!

The Dr. Bob Foster Award for Excellence in Rural Health Professions Education.

Dr. Bob Foster has devoted his career to preparing future generations of rural health professionals. His career spanning 45 years at WV School of Osteopathic Medicine has touched thousands of students who have helped provide care for countless patients in rural communities.

Who do you think this year's winner will be?
